

The gang: Ivory Coast Aces

Our first was the GTA LCS construction workers had swapped on to the San Fierro old Black man body. I didn't like that the two San Fierro old Black men had the same head. I then took it a step further and changed the shirt bottom 2/3 to orange. This was to match the head's orange Backwards hat and another ped I had reskinned. I also added the crest of the Ivory Coast on his upper back.

Letterman jacket skin was a simple coloring of the jacket orange. But now that I was using him for a gang, I had to add a little more, the Ivory Coast flag outlined in the shape of the country to be exact, across his entire back.

Finally, I took Las Venturas Black criminal and put his head on beatboxer from GTA Vice City. Changed the shirt to Orange and again added the Ivory Coast flag, this time over the ship on his chest. And for a little extra flare I made his hair bands orange, and added sunglasses.

The OGs: Diamant, Pique (Diamond and Spade)

After a manual texturing of the Victor Vance loan shark skin I swapped the the GTA 3 scarf and hat old man's head on to that body. An all business look for Diamant.

His brother, Pique, takes the grizzly Black tramp head, also from Vice City Stories, but puts it on the craps table man's body for a scary yet gentlemanly combination.

Back story: Coming from the Ivory Coast this immigrant gang of west Africans specializes in jewelry smuggling and chop shops. They've come to the country to get a foothold in the Diamond market and will be ruthless in doing so.

Suggested uses: Given the geography of their country of origin I'd place them in an east coast city. GTA Stars and Stripes, Underground or any other by city or liberty city map would make the most sense. But a new map has come on the scene recently, the midnight club London map, a perfect fit. DYOMs with them as the friends would be a fun use, but I could see some ideas where they're the villains of your story as well. Here's a fun idea, have them there to find someone from Ivory Coast, and your story either has you teaming up with them or protecting the person they're trying to find.
